Learn at Home with PBS KIDS

Week of February 15th

Hello, Families!

Welcome to Learn Along Bingo! We're happy to share PBS KIDS activities with you and to work with PBS member stations and community partners across the country to help support learning at home. With Learn Along Bingo, children can view, explore, and play as they learn alongside their PBS KIDS friends on the PBS KIDS 24/7 channel. We hope your family will use it to inspire learning each and every day.

It's Treating Others Fairly Week!

In this packet, there are printable activities and everyday learning ideas for you and your child to choose from. As you complete each square, mark it off to celebrate the learning.

Learning Spotlight: Treating Others Fairly

Learning about justice and fairness is important. We learn to behave responsibly and how to respect others.

Show What You Know: Draw Yourself As An Advocate

The last activity in this packet is a perfect way for children to show how they can be advocates for others.

Tune in: Watch PBS KIDS Talk About: Race & Racism at 7:30pm ET on Tuesday, February 9th on the PBS KIDS 24/7 channel.

Animal Tracks Matching Game

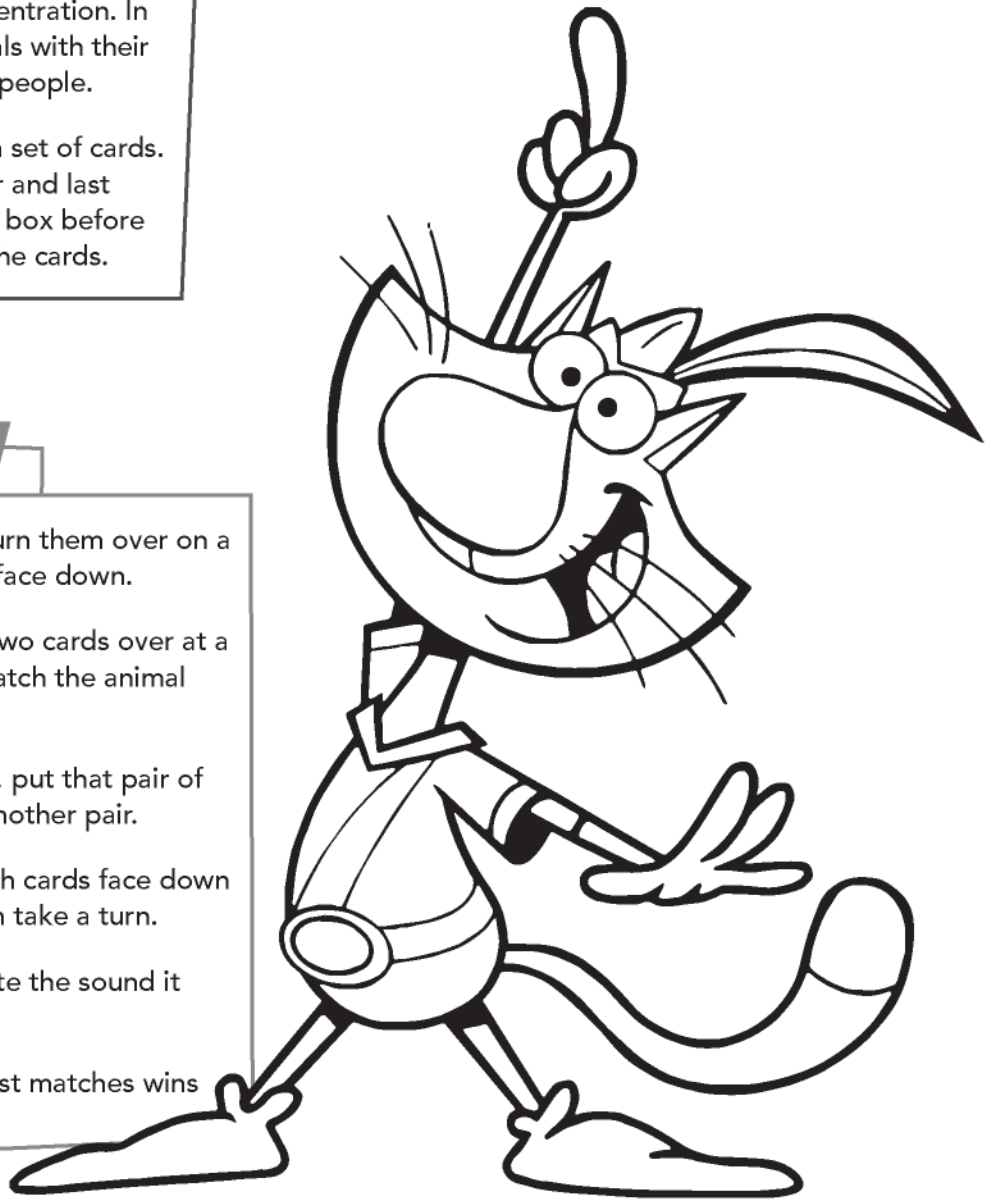

GET READY

This game is a version of the classic children's game known as Memory or Concentration. In this version, kids will match animals with their tracks. It can be played by 1 to 4 people.

Print and cut the squares for each set of cards. To make the game pieces sturdier and last longer, glue the paper to a cereal box before cutting. You could also laminate the cards.

TALLY HO! LET'S PLAY!

1. Shuffle the cards and then turn them over on a flat surface so that they are face down.
2. Begin the game by turning two cards over at a time to see if you can match the animal with its footprints.
3. If the two cards go together, put that pair of cards aside and try to find another pair.
4. If they don't match, turn both cards face down again and let another person take a turn.
5. Move like an animal or imitate the sound it makes.
6. The player that finds the most matches wins the game!

Go Wild Game

Go Wild is a version of the classic children's card game known as Go Fish. It can be played by two or more kids. The goal of the game is to make the most "books" or sets of four identical cards.

MAKE THE GAME:

Print and cut out the playing cards. To make the cards sturdier and last longer, glue the paper to a cereal box before cutting. You could also laminate the cards.

HOW TO PLAY:

- The dealer shuffles the cards and gives each player five cards to start the game. The remaining cards are placed face down in a pile in the center of the game table or space.
- Once all the cards are dealt, the players can look at their cards. If a player has four of the same cards in the dealt hand, then those cards can immediately be placed on the table face up in front of the player.
- The player to the left of the dealer starts the game by deciding which of their cards they would like to collect to build a set. The player then asks an opponent — it can be anyone playing — if they have that card, for example: "Do you have cheetahs?" That opponent must then give the player all of their cheetah cards. If the opponent does not have cheetah cards, they say, "Go Wild." The player then draws a card from the center pile.
- If the player gets the card they requested from an opponent or draws that card from the pile (they must show everyone that they drew that card), then they get to go again. If not, the person to the left of the player begins her turn. Play continues until all 13 sets of animal cards are collected as sets. The player with the most sets wins the game.
- For added fun, players can make the animal noise for the animal on the card whenever a book is completed. If you know a creature fact, share it with your opponent!
